• The Blue Charter of Armateurs de France requires its signatories to contribute to noise reduction.
• French shipowners carry out acoustic signature measurements on their ships and invest in research and development concerning the reduction of propeller noise and the isolation of machinery.

A HOT TOPIC FOR THE FRENCH MARITIME SECTOR

• The Blue Charter of Armateurs de France requires its signatories to contribute to noise reduction.
• French shipowners carry out acoustic signature measurements on their ships and invest in research and development concerning the reduction of propeller noise and the isolation of machinery.